B. Main Text / Core Content

a. Literature Review

A critical review of relevant books, journal articles, essays, and previous scholarly studies related to the selected research topic.

Identification of key themes, theoretical approaches, and critical arguments used by earlier scholars.

Establishment of the theoretical and critical framework of the present study.

b. Research Gap

Clear identification of gaps, limitations, or unexplored perspectives in existing scholarship.

Explanation of how the present study contributes new interpretations, perspectives, or analytical approaches.

c. Objectives

Clear statement of 1–2 specific research objectives or research questions.

The objectives should be logically derived from the research gap and guide the overall analysis and discussion.

d. Materials

Description of the primary texts being studied (novels, plays, poems, essays, etc.).

Description of secondary sources such as scholarly articles, books, theoretical texts, and critical essays used for analysis.

e. Methods

Explanation of the research methodology used in the study.

This may include approaches (not restricted to) such as:

- ☐ Close textual analysis
- ☐ Comparative analysis

- ☐ Theoretical or critical frameworks (e.g., feminist criticism, postcolonial criticism, Marxist criticism, etc.)
- ☐ Historical or contextual analysis

A brief explanation of how these methods help in interpreting the selected texts.

f. Results

Systematic presentation of the key observations and findings derived from textual analysis.

Relevant quotations from the primary texts may be used to support the findings.

g. Discussion

- Interpretation of the findings in relation to the research objectives and existing literary criticism and theoretical frameworks.
- Explanation of how the analysis contributes to a deeper understanding of the text, theme, author, or literary movement.
- Comparison of findings with earlier scholarly interpretations.

h. Major Findings and Conclusion

- Summary of the most important insights derived from the analysis.
- Conclusions drawn directly from the research objectives.
- Brief statement on the literary, cultural, or theoretical significance of the study.
- Possible suggestions for future research.

i. References (MLA 9th Edition Style)

- A comprehensive list of Works Cited, including:
 - ☐ Books
 - ☐ Journal articles
 - ☐ Edited volumes
 - ☐ Online academic resources

3. Execution Framework

A. Topic Approval

Each student shall submit a formal research proposal/synopsis outlining the proposed title, objectives, research questions, methodology, study area (where applicable), and preliminary references. The proposal shall be evaluated and approved by the department/supervisor based on academic relevance, originality, feasibility, and ethical considerations.

B. Supervised Academic Work

Upon approval of the topic, students shall undertake systematic literature review, field investigation etc, as relevant to the nature of the study. All research activities shall be conducted under the continuous guidance and supervision of the assigned faculty supervisor.

C. Drafting and Revision

Students shall prepare interim drafts of the dissertation/project report. These drafts shall be reviewed by the supervisor to ensure scientific accuracy, analytical coherence, methodological rigour, and adherence to prescribed academic and formatting standards. Necessary revisions shall be incorporated based on feedback.

D. Final Submission

The completed dissertation/project report shall be submitted in the prescribed format, both in hard copy and soft copy, within the notified timeline. The submission must comply with institutional guidelines regarding structure, referencing style, plagiarism limits, and certification requirements.

4. Document Format and Technical Specifications

Length and copies: Within 100 pages or 10,000 words and 3 Nos of copies

Font: Times New Roman, 12 pt

• Line spacing: 2.0 • Figures, tables, and scientific notation/equations: Properly labeled • Referencing style: MLA (9th Edition)

Plagiarism threshold: Plagiarism (<10%) and AI similarity (<20%) verification clearance

Method of Assessment, Measurement, & Evaluation:

A. DRP report evaluation (150 Marks)
B. Presentation & Viva-Voce (75 Marks)

- Mode: Presentation followed by viva-voce
- Duration: Presentation (5-10 minutes) + Viva-voce (5–10 minutes)

Evaluation Note (For Record)

- The evaluation of the dissertation/project work shall be conducted in accordance with the approved assessment scheme prescribed by the University.
- The assessment shall consider originality, relevance of the topic, methodological rigour, quality of analysis, interpretation of results, and overall academic presentation.

- Marks awarded for the written report and presentation/viva-voce shall be clearly recorded, signed, and dated by the examiner(s).
- The evaluation sheet and viva-voce report shall be preserved by the department for future reference and audit purposes.
- Any case of academic misconduct or plagiarism detected during evaluation shall be dealt with strictly as per university regulations.

Viva-Voce Guidelines

- Viva-voce shall be conducted after submission of the final report.
- The viva-voce board shall normally consist of the supervisor and one internal/external examiner, as per university rules.
- The viva-voce shall assess the students':
 - Conceptual understanding of the topic
 - Knowledge of literature and methodology
 - Ability to interpret and justify results
 - Original contribution and critical thinking
- The viva-voce shall follow a short presentation (5-10 minutes) by the student, followed by question-answer interaction.

Maintenance of Academic Records:

Each department shall maintain a complete academic record of the Term Paper, including:

- Approved synopsis/proposal
- Supervisor's certificate
- Final term paper (hard copy and soft copy)
- Plagiarism (<10%) and AI similarity (<20%) verification clearance
- Evaluation and viva-voce score sheets

	● Soft/Hard copies of the Term Paper shall be archived digitally by the department/library for academic reference. ● Academic records shall be preserved for a minimum period as prescribed by the University. ● The department shall ensure confidentiality, integrity, and accessibility of academic records for examination, accreditation, and quality assurance purposes.

General Guidelines for Term Paper Preparation

- Each student will prepare an individual and original term paper under the direct supervision of an assigned faculty supervisor.
- Joint or group submissions will not be permitted.
- The entire report must be written in English using clear, formal, and academically appropriate language.
- Students are expected to conduct independent literary research, including the close reading and analysis of primary texts along with consultation of relevant secondary sources.
- All quotations, extracts, tables, charts, or illustrations included in the paper must be clearly cited, properly numbered (wherever applicable) and properly titled or captioned.
- Any textual extracts or quotations must be properly cited following the MLA 9th Edition referencing style.
- Students must strictly follow the approved document format, referencing style, plagiarism limits (<10%) and AI similarity limits (<20%) as prescribed by the University.
- Submission of the term paper will be subject to:
 - Supervisor's certification
 - Plagiarism (<10%) and AI similarity (<20%) verification clearance
 - Completion of presentation and viva-voce

Structure for Term Paper Preparation

A. Front Matter

a. Cover Page

The cover page should include:

- Title
- Student's name
- Roll number and registration number
- Paper name and code
- Semester
- Name of the college and university
- Name of the supervisor
- Date of submission

b. Supervisor's Certificate

A formal certificate from the supervisor confirming that the student has actively participated in research and prepared the term paper on the basis of the research. The certificate must be signed, dated, and printed on institutional letterhead.

c. Acknowledgement

A brief note expressing gratitude to the supervisor, faculty members, libraries, institutions, and individuals who assisted in the research.

d. Table of Contents

List of chapters and major sections with correct page numbers.

e. List of Figures (if applicable)

f. List of Tables (if applicable)

B. Main Text / Core Content

a. Literature Review

- A critical review of relevant books, journal articles, essays, and previous scholarly studies related to the selected research topic.
- Identification of key themes, theoretical approaches, and critical arguments used by earlier scholars.
- Establishment of the theoretical and critical framework of the present study.

b. Research Gap

- Clear identification of gaps, limitations, or unexplored perspectives in existing scholarship.
- Explanation of how the present study contributes new interpretations, perspectives, or analytical approaches.

c. Objectives

- Clear statement of 1–2 specific research objectives or research questions.
- The objectives should be logically derived from the research gap and guide the overall analysis and discussion.

d. Materials

- Description of the primary texts being studied (novels, plays, poems, essays, etc.).
- Description of secondary sources such as scholarly articles, books, theoretical texts, and critical essays used for analysis.

e. Methods

- Explanation of the research methodology used in the study.
- This may include approaches (not restricted to) such as:
 - Close textual analysis

- Comparative analysis
- Theoretical or critical frameworks (e.g., feminist criticism, postcolonial criticism, Marxist criticism, etc.)
- Historical or contextual analysis
- A brief explanation of how these methods help in interpreting the selected texts.

f. Results

- Systematic presentation of the key observations and findings derived from textual analysis.
- Relevant quotations from the primary texts may be used to support the findings

g. Discussion

- Interpretation of the findings in relation to the research objectives and existing literary criticism and theoretical frameworks.
- Explanation of how the analysis contributes to a deeper understanding of the text, theme, author, or literary movement.
- Comparison of findings with earlier scholarly interpretations.

h. Major Findings and Conclusion

- Summary of the most important insights derived from the analysis.
- Conclusions drawn directly from the research objectives.
- Brief statement on the literary, cultural, or theoretical significance of the study.
- Possible suggestions for future research.

i. References (MLA 9th Edition Style)

- A comprehensive list of Works Cited, including:

- ☐ Books
- ☐ Journal articles
- ☐ Edited volumes
- ☐ Online academic resources

Or,

Field Report

Or,

Literature Review

Or,

Book Review

Execution framework

A. Topic Approval

Each student shall submit a formal research proposal/synopsis outlining the proposed title, objectives, research questions, methodology, study area (where applicable), and preliminary references. The proposal shall be evaluated and approved by the department/supervisor based on academic relevance, originality, feasibility, and ethical considerations.

B. Supervised Academic Work

Upon approval of the topic, students shall undertake systematic literature review, field investigation etc, as relevant to the nature of the study. All research activities shall be conducted under the continuous guidance and supervision of the assigned faculty supervisor.

C. Drafting and Revision

Students shall prepare interim drafts of the term paper. These drafts shall be reviewed by the supervisor to ensure scientific accuracy, analytical coherence, methodological rigour, and adherence to prescribed academic and formatting standards. Necessary revisions shall be incorporated based on feedback.

D. Final Submission

The completed term paper shall be submitted in the prescribed format, both in hard copy and soft copy, within the notified timeline. The submission must comply with institutional guidelines regarding structure, referencing style, plagiarism limits, and certification requirements.

Document Format and Technical Specifications

- Length and copies: Within 40-50 pages or 5,000 words and 3 Nos of copies
- Font: Times New Roman, 12 pt
- Line spacing: 2.0
- Figures, tables, and scientific notation/equations: Properly labeled
- Referencing style: MLA (9th Edition)
- Plagiarism threshold: Plagiarism (<10%) and AI similarity (<20%) verification clearance

Method of Assessment, Measurement, & Evaluation:

A. DRP report evaluation (50 Marks) B. Presentation & Viva-Voce (25 Marks)

- Mode: Presentation followed by viva-voce
- Duration: Presentation (5-10 minutes) + Viva-voce (5–10 minutes)

Evaluation Note (For Record)

- The evaluation of the term paper shall be conducted in accordance with the approved assessment scheme prescribed by the University.

- The assessment shall consider originality, relevance of the topic, methodological rigour, quality of analysis, interpretation of results, and overall academic presentation.
- Marks awarded for the written report and presentation/viva-voce shall be clearly recorded, signed, and dated by the examiner(s).
- The evaluation sheet and viva-voce report shall be preserved by the department for future reference and audit purposes.
- Any case of academic misconduct or plagiarism detected during evaluation shall be dealt with strictly as per university regulations.

Viva-Voce Guidelines

- Viva-voce shall be conducted after submission of the final report.
- The viva-voce board shall normally consist of the supervisor and one internal/external examiner, as per university rules.
- The viva-voce shall assess the students':
 - Conceptual understanding of the topic
 - Knowledge of literature and methodology
 - Ability to interpret and justify results
 - Original contribution and critical thinking
- The viva-voce shall follow a short presentation (5-10 minutes) by the student, followed by question-answer interaction.

Maintenance of Academic Records:

Each department shall maintain a complete academic record of the Term Paper, including:

- Approved synopsis/proposal

	• Supervisor's certificate • Final term paper (hard copy and soft copy) • Plagiarism (<10%) and AI similarity (<20%) verification clearance • Evaluation and viva-voce score sheets • Soft/Hard copies of the Term Paper shall be archived digitally by the department/library for academic reference. • Academic records shall be preserved for a minimum period as prescribed by the University. • The department shall ensure confidentiality, integrity, and accessibility of academic records for examination, accreditation, and quality assurance purposes.
